

CCAR Client Testimonial
CC: Diana Desnoyers

July 19th, 2010

My experience with CCAR, from an employer's point of view, has been positive as well as rewarding since my first meeting with Diana Desnoyers. Our focus at Point Staffing Services has always included: local business and community development as well as Equal Opportunity job placement. CCAR has played a key role in sending us quality candidates who are ready to bring value to our companies.

When CCAR candidates come in and register, they have been prepared, educated on re-entering the work force and always show initiative. The training they incur at CCAR has developed them into motivated job-seekers who are making positive changes in their own life and the life of others. As a result, they work hard; bring value to our clients, which creates a win-win situation for both parties.

Candidates that come from CCAR have an advantage over other candidates who have addiction and past criminal history. This is because of the extensive training and personal assistance the CCAR program provides.

When someone registers with our services with a substance abuse problem, they are able to select packets and business cards for CCAR on display, which is kept confidential. Those that choose to seek help from CCAR will come back ready to enter the work-force with new skills, self esteem and motivation.

In summary, working with CCAR has helped Point Staffing achieve our goals to provide community/ business development and give people a second chance to make better choices in their life and find work that will develop their skills and abilities to become marketable employees.

I look forward to continuing a working relationship with CCAR and advocating their hard work and dedication to these individuals who have made the right choice to seek help and become valuable employees. Keep up the good work!

With Kind Regards,
